CERTIFICATE OF INDEPENDENT BID DETERMINATION

1  This Standard Bidding Document (SBD) must form part of all bids\(^1\) invited.

2  Section 4 (1) (b) (iii) of the Competition Act No. 89 of 1998, as amended, prohibits an agreement between, or concerted practice by, firms, or a decision by an association of firms, if it is between parties in a horizontal relationship and if it involves collusive bidding (or bid rigging).\(^2\) Collusive bidding is a per se prohibition meaning that it cannot be justified under any grounds.

3  Treasury Regulation 16A9 prescribes that accounting officers and accounting authorities must take all reasonable steps to prevent abuse of the supply chain management system and authorizes accounting officers and accounting authorities to:

   a. disregard the bid of any bidder if that bidder, or any of its directors have abused the institution’s supply chain management system and or committed fraud or any other improper conduct in relation to such system.

   b. cancel a contract awarded to a supplier of goods and services if the supplier committed any corrupt or fraudulent act during the bidding process or the execution of that contract.

4  This SBD serves as a certificate of declaration that would be used by institutions to ensure that, when bids are considered, reasonable steps are taken to prevent any form of bid-rigging.

5  In order to give effect to the above, the attached Certificate of Bid Determination (SBD 9) must be completed and submitted with the bid:

\(^1\) Includes price quotations, advertised competitive bids, limited bids and proposals.

\(^2\) Bid rigging (or collusive bidding) occurs when businesses, that would otherwise be expected to compete, secretly conspire to raise prices or lower the quality of goods and / or services for purchasers who wish to acquire goods and / or services through a bidding process. Bid rigging is, therefore, an agreement between competitors not to compete.

1. PURPOSE

1.1 The Department intends to commission a project to conduct a research investigating (1) the safety implications and (2) the economic implications of the implementation of regulation 224 on High Cube container transport on SA public roads in the Republic. Transportation of other sizes and cargoes will also be considered.

1.2 Using the outcomes of such a study to include the investigation of alternative means of transport of High Cube containers, with particular reference to rail and coastal shipping.

2. BACKGROUND

2.1. The Roads Branch has among its core activities the responsibility for managing and updating all road traffic related Acts and regulations, manage, promote and co-ordinate road safety projects, control overload by heavy vehicles and related services and regulate the movement of motor vehicles on public roads.

2.2. In regulating the use of motor vehicles on our public roads this ensures the protection of the road infrastructure and the safety of all road users.

2.3. The National Road Traffic Act (Act 93 of 1996) (hereinafter referred to as the NRTA) and the National Road Traffic Regulations, 2000 (hereinafter referred to as the NRTR), prescribes certain limitations on vehicle dimensions, axle and vehicle masses that a vehicle using a public road must comply with.

2.4 However, certain vehicles and loads cannot be moved on public roads without exceeding the limitations in terms of the dimensions and/or mass as prescribed in the NRTR. Where such a vehicle or load cannot be dismantled, without disproportionate effort, expense or risk of damage, into units that can travel or be transported legally, it is classified as an abnormal load. The standard ISO High Cube container has an overall height of 2.9 metres compared with 2.6 metres for an ISO Standard container. This posed a significant challenge for the road freight industry of motor vehicles used in transportation of High-Cube containers. This is as a result of the extra height of HC containers over a standard container, when transported using the current standard trailers. The legal maximum height restrictions for vehicles in South Africa are prescribed in Regulation 224(b), of the National Road Traffic Regulations, 2000 under the National Road Traffic Act, 1996 (Act No. 93 of 1996). This regulation states that any vehicle, other than double-deck busses, may not exceed an overall height, including load projections, of 4.3 metres.

2.5 For the sake of completeness, regulation 224(b) of the National Road Traffic Regulations published under the National Road Traffic Act, 1996 provides as follows:

‘Vehicle and load may be exempted from provisions of Act

81. (1) The Minister may, after the applicant has paid the fees or charges referred to in section 7(3) and subject to such conditions as he or she may determine, authorise in writing, either generally or specifically, the operation on a public road of a vehicle which, due to such vehicle’s original design cannot comply with this Act.

(2) The MEC may, after the applicant has paid the fees or charges referred to in section 7(3) and subject to such conditions as he or she may determine, authorise in writing, either generally or specifically, the conveyance in a safe manner on a public road of passengers or any load otherwise than in accordance with this Act.

(3) An MEC shall determine the fees or charges payable for a vehicle or load that does not comply with this Act.”

2.6 When the movement of an abnormal load is considered to be in the economic and/or social interest of the country, an exemption permit may be issued to allow a vehicle(s) transporting such an abnormal load to operate on a public road for a limited period.
2.7 The Roads Branch is also responsible for the technical support by the administration of Section 81 and has established the Abnormal Load Technical Committee and developed the TRH11: "Dimensional and Mass Limitations and Other Requirements for Abnormal Vehicles" and the TRH: Administration Guidelines.

2.8 The TRH11 Administration Guidelines deals with the administrative procedures relating to the registration of abnormal vehicles and the application to or issuing of exemption permits. Where such a vehicle or load cannot be dismantled, without disproportionate effort, expense or risk of damage, into units that can travel or be transported legally, it is classified as an abnormal load and is allowed to travel on public roads under an exemption permit issued in terms of Section 81 of the National Road Traffic Act. The function of collecting data for freight, crashes and law enforcement is that of the Road and Traffic Authorities.

2.9 The Administration Guidelines must be read with reference to TRH11: "Dimensional and Mass Limitations and Other Requirements for Abnormal Vehicles". Some provinces, such as Western Cape, KwaZulu-Natal and Free State as well as the toll road concessionaires prepare monthly and annual overload control reports that contain statistics on overloading and weighing activities. There are currently no consolidated statistics available on national overload control for South Africa. Provinces have different systems and approaches on how they report and deal with issues overload control. Others are still using a manual capturing at the weighbridges, whilst others have migrated to electronic systems. Provinces therefore are required to submit overload control statistics to the Department or either to RTMC.

2.10 However, research has shown that damage to the road by axle loads exceeding the legal limit, increases out of all proportion to the loads. For example, an axle carrying double the legal load may cause from 4 to 60 times as much damage as one legal axle load, depending on the condition of the structure and type of road.

2.11 The lack of technical capacity and absence of a system for data analysis in the Department has resulted in the need for the procurement of an external service provider.

2.12 The data collected from weighbridges require to be processed and analysed in a specific software of which that software is not available in the Department after consulting with the departmental IT.

2.13 Once the overload statistics report has been updated, all overload control data will be integrated into the Departmental National Land Transport Information System, which still is under development.

The fundamental principles guiding this process are:

2.14 is against this backdrop that the Honourable Minister met with stakeholders and issued a directive that before the Department comes up with a lasting solution to the problem, research should be conducted.

2.15 The project will assist the Department in ensuring that the process of reviewing and or amending the legislation is supported by research which is based on the impact on the road infrastructure, safety and the financial implications on the proposed intervention.

2.16 The Department does not currently have the skills required to conduct the proposed research study.
2.17 Collection of Heavy Vehicle Data and Research on the Safety of High Cube Containers.

2.17.1 The standard ISO High Cube container has an overall height of 2.9 m compared with 2.6 m for an ISO Standard container. This posed a significant challenge for road freight industry for vehicles transporting High-Cube containers. This is as a result of the extra height of the HC container over a standard container.

2.17.2 The legal maximum height restrictions for vehicles in South Africa are prescribed in Regulation 224 (b), of the National Road Traffic Regulations, 2000 under the National Road Traffic Act, 1996 (Act No. 93 of 1996). This regulation states that any vehicle, other than double-deck busses, may not exceed an overall height, including load projections, of 4.3 m.

2.17.3 For the sake of completeness, regulation 224(b) of the National Road Traffic Regulations published under the National Road Traffic Act, 1996 provides as follows:

"224. Overall height of vehicle and load

(a) in the case of a double-deck bus exceeds four comma six five metres; and

(b) in the case of any other motor vehicle exceeds four comma three metres."

2.18.4 Recognising the challenge the above regulation posed to the stakeholders and the economy of the country, the then Minister of Transport, Mr S J Ndebele MP, on 20 September 2011 stemming from discussions and meetings that were held with the stakeholders and industry agreed to publish a notice in Government Gazette No. 34621 exempting the transportation of the International Organization for Standardization (ISO) of containers on the public roads for a period of seven years. See (Annexure "B").

2.18.5 It is an accepted convention in legislative drafting that research precedes legislation making.
3 SCOPE OF WORK

3.1 To conduct a research investigating:
   (1) the safety implications
       (i) stability of the vehicle and the load; and
       (ii) tilt angle test of the vehicle laden,
   (2) the economic implications of the implementation of regulation 224 on High Cube container transport on our public roads, and
   (3) infrastructure, financial and legal implications on the transportation of Hi-Cube containers.

3.2 the successful contractor is expected to also:

3.2.1 Conduct a research investigating (1) the safety implications and (2) the economic implications of the implementation of regulation 224 on High Cube Container transport on our public roads.

3.2.2 Conduct a basic review of the existing / applicable local and/or international transport data and best practices in place for safe and efficient heavy vehicle transportation.

3.2.3 Conduct a comprehensive and comparative legal study of existing legislation in various countries where different types of trailers are used to transport high cube containers. Perform a brief study and information gathering exercise to obtain similar guidelines and practices in other countries (within Africa and overseas).

3.2.4 Collect relevant data on the trailer configurations used to transport High Cube containers.
3.2.5 Perform a comparative analysis of the conditions under which these different types of trailers carrying high cube containers are allowed to operate in the countries already researched.

3.2.6 Gather and analyse information and input from a wide range of industry stakeholders (consignees / consignors / hauliers / trailer manufacturers / industry associations and interested parties) in order to fully describe and expand the implications of the usage of different trailer configurations under consideration.

3.2.7 Perform a technical analysis of the designs of the existing trailer configurations in transporting Hi-Cube containers.

3.2.8 Analyse the conditions of the abnormal permit system as it relates to the transportation of High Cube containers on South African roads.

3.2.9 Prepare an initial report on High Cube container transportation for presentation to the task team.

3.2.10 To identify the opportunities for the movement of containerised cargoes through coastal shipping taking into account the Comprehensive Maritime Transport Policy (CMTP), Policy Statement 8.

3.2.11 Collect and consolidate data from Transnet of Ports in South Africa on the movement of hi-cube containers.

3.2.12 Collect opinion from South African producers on the opportunity of moving Hi-Cube containers by coastal shipping.

6.11 Only bidders who have completed and signed the declaration part of the preference claim form and who have submitted a B-BBEE Verification Certificate from a Verification Agency accredited by the South African Accreditation System (SANAS), or a Registered Auditor approved by the Independent Regulatory Board of Auditors (IRBA) or a sworn affidavit confirming annual turnover and level of black ownership in case of an EME and QSE together with the bid will be considered for preference points. A trust, consortium or joint venture (including unincorporated consortia and joint ventures) must submit a consolidated B-BBEE Status Level Verification Certificate for every separate tender.

6.12 Failure on the part of the bidder to comply with paragraphs 6.9. and 6.10 above will be deemed that preference points for B-BBEE status level of contribution are not claimed and will therefore be allocated a zero (0).

6.13 The Department of Transport may, before a bid is adjudicated or at any time, require a bidder to substantiate claims it has made with regard to preference.

6.14 The points scored will be rounded off to the nearest 2 decimals.

6.15 In the event that two or more bids have scored equal total points, the contract will be awarded to the bidder scoring the highest number of preference points for B-BBEE.

6.16 However, when functionality is part of the evaluation process and two or more bidders have scored equal points including equal preference points for B-BBEE, the contract will be awarded to the bidder scoring the highest for functionality.
6.17 Should two or more bids be equal in all respects; the award shall be decided by the drawing of lots.

6.18 A contract may, on reasonable and justifiable grounds, be awarded to a bid that did not score the highest number of points.
